

rie of Scotland.

151

taken: for Colene commanded, that whosoever could light vpon them, should in anie wise saue their lines, and bring them vnto him. Which being done, he had them to the racke, where the mother vpon hir examination confessed the whole matter, how by hir procurement chiefe hir husband was moued to cause the deed to be done, who they were that by his commandement did it, and in what place they had buried the bodie. Here would the multitude haue run vpon 10 hir and torne hir in peeces, but that they were restrained by commandement of an officer at armes. The K. with the residue for that night rested themselves, and in the morning toke order for due prouision of all things necessarie to take vp the bodie of king Duffe, and then to conueie it vnto Colmekill, there to be buried amongst his predecessors.

The murther is wholte confessed.

King Duffe
his bodie to be taken vp.

But as they were busie hereabout, word came that the traitor Donwald was by shipwracke cast vpon the shore within foure miles of the castell, as 20 though he were by Gods prouision brought backe into his owne countrie to suffer worthe punishment for his demerits. Wherevpon the inhabitants of the places next adioining toke him, and kept him fast bound till they knew further of the kings pleasure: who verie glad of the newes, sent forth immediatlie a band of men to fetch him. They that were sent did as they were commanded: and being scarce returned, there came in diuerse lords of Koffe, bringing with them Donwalds foure seruants, which (as before is said) did execute the murther. Thus all the of-30 fenders being brought together vnto the place where the murther was both contriued and executed, they were arraigned, condemned, and put to death in maner as follo weth, to the great reioising of the people that beheld the same.

Donwald is taken prisoner

Donwalds
four seruants
were taken also.